

Centre for Sustainable Development and Innovation of Water Technology

ABOUT CSDI WATERTECH

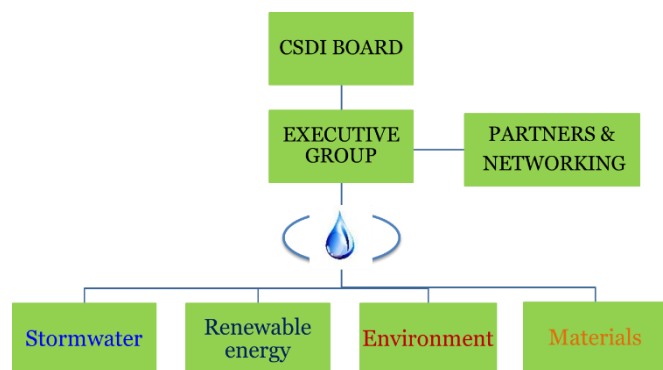

CSDI WATERTECH established in 2015, running as a Centre for Sustainable Development and Innovation of Water Technology. It is a R&D Foundation based in Norway.

CSDI aims to contribute to sustainable and Innovative development and dissemination of technologies in the areas of Water, Environment and Renewable energy and new materials. Further, CSDI WaterTech is making efforts to promote knowledge transformation, upgrade and application from Norway and EU to China within our focal areas.

CSDI ORGANIZATION AND AREAS

MAIN SERVICE AREAS

- Integrated urban water management
- Flood risk analysis and management
- Sustainable urban drainage systems, and LID solution
- Hydropower and renewable energy
- Ecosystem service and Environment protection
- Rehabilitation and repairing hydraulic concrete structures

CSDI MAIN ACTIVITIES

- Coordination and participation of R&D projects;
- Technical consulting and training courses within our expertise areas;
- Organise seminars and workshops, publications, technical visiting and exchanges;
- Provide consulting service for Chinese institutes and companies to find collaboration partners in Norway; vice versa provide service for Norwegian companies to develop their business in China.

OUR VISION

Bridging the bilateral and multilateral collaboration between Norway, EU and China in the areas of Water, Environment and Renewable Energy.